

LOOKING FOR BIG SEASON

The Samoset Will Open and Close With a State Convention—A New Manager

An optimistic note concerning the approaching season at the Samoset Hotel, Rockland Breakwater, is sounded by Adriel U. Bird, one of the proprietors, who says in a letter to a member of The Courier-Gazette that "our bookings for this season are the largest since I have had anything to do with the hotel."

"The Samoset," he adds, "is to open June 25. The Maine Medical Association is having its annual convention there at that time. This is quite an innovation for the Samoset, as it has never made a practice of having conventions. This year it will open and close with one.

"Samuel Colson, who will be the manager this year, has been room clerk there for many years. We are not sure whether Rand Smith will return, as he is subject to the draft, but if the Government does not take him he will surely be back this summer."

A large crew has been working at The Samoset all winter, painting, papering, etc., so that everything will be spic and span when the hotel opens.

Peace Preparedness

An Effort Which Is Being Backed By Ministers Of Our Churches

Community interest with respect to preparedness for peace, while at the same time concentrating on winning the war, is the heartwarming effort being made by the women of the churches in Rockland. This effort is backed by the ministers of our churches, who realize the deep religious significance of this attempt to save souls fighting at the front, and at home with their united prayers, and early study for the surest methods and the clearest plans in intelligent procedure.

If we plan ahead we may avoid the shoals of wrong transition. The churches realize their help is the first duty in this situation. The world now finds its communities struggling to be ready for co-operation by all parties and all churches in the vital needs of the future.

A community of interest, with respect to preparedness for peace is paramount to every other matter today, except winning the war. Some have not yet awakened to the importance of this matter. Some there were once who forgot to light their candles. This plan is a fine support to the work being done by our men in their deep efforts for best procedure.—K. S. F.

But Corp. Cavanaugh Of Rockport Is Back In The Front Line

Corp. Frederick R. Cavanaugh, 23, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Cavanaugh of Rockport, was wounded in action Feb. 18, 1944, in the Mediterranean area, according to word received by his parents several days ago.

His father said Saturday that he received a letter from Corporal Cavanaugh the first of last week advising that he was back in the front line in Italy.

Mr. Cavanaugh married Helen Kakkio, who made her home in West Rockport, when attending Rockport High School. Corporal Cavanaugh attended Rockport High School and when a senior went to Portland with the 240th C.A.C., Co. E. He was honorably discharged and received his diploma from Rockport High School.

He was inducted through selective service draft system July 16, 1942 and received training at Fort Devens, Mass., Pine Camp, N. Y. and Camp Pickett, Va. He went overseas the last of May or first of June, 1943, with the 7th Army under General Patton, and saw service in Sicily. Since then he has been transferred to the 5th Army under General Mark Clark.

Corporal Cavanaugh was wounded on the first birthday of his daughter, Marie.

The Kiwanis Club

Price Specialist Of The O.P.A. Sheds Light On The Matter Of Subsidies

James Nelson, Jr., of Augusta, price specialist of the O.P.A., was speaker at the Kiwanis Club meeting Monday night. He gave an illuminating talk on "Subsidies," explaining in his introduction that subsidies were not new as some had been in effect even before the nation was organized. Mr. Nelson was substituting for State Director of O.P.A. Prescott H. Vose, who found it impossible to be present.

President A. Alan Grossman announced that the club charity fund benefited $126.80 from the Easter Monday ball. An interesting letter from James F. Brown, service member and former manager of the Hotel Rockland, was read by Mr. Grossman. An invitation from the Orono Club was read urging Rockland Kiwanians to join that club for a trip to St. Stephens, N. B., for a get together of New Brunswick and Maine clubs, April 22. Alfred J. Lacasse of Augusta and Walter H. Barstow of Rockland were guests. The speaker was introduced by Lawrence Miller, program chairman.

Rockland Man Made Good Fight In Cathedral A. A. 10-Mile Handicap

Breaking two records and lugging off three prizes, Clayton Farrar, the 22-year-old U. S. Coast Guardsman, won the 34th annual Cathedral A. A. 10-mile handicap road race from scratch and finished as strong as a daisy. Bruno Mazzeo of Rockland, came around the corner of Union Park street to take runner-up honors in the rain-soaked race.

It was Farrar by a yard at East Broadway, but Kelly took over before he passed his workshop at the Edison plant. The Farragut statue at the Point they were even with Bruno Mazzeo as they came down the line at the L street baths, he having raced into the lead around the four-mile mark at the time.

Farrar really started to let go down the Strandway beside the beach, moved into fifth and, at Carson Beach, was third. Coming to Columbia circle, Farrar was closing in fast on Mazzeo, who then gave him a run for it and Kelly was some 75 yards behind.

Mazzeo couldn't keep up with such power as Farrar offered and was passed at the Edison Electric buildings on Massachusetts avenue and had to watch the Coast Guard entry widen the gap at every stride until he had 60 yards at the City Hospital and a 100 before they turned in from Harrison avenue to the club house finish.—Boston Post.

The Rotary Club

Colored Slides Shown By Mr. Smalley—Members Home From the South

Beautiful colored still photograph slides were shown at the Rotary meeting Friday by Charles T. Smalley. These pictures, taken by him, covered a variety of subjects including views taken in Camden, Rockland, Washington, D. C., Florida and other Southern States. Especially fine were the ones taken of Fall foliage and of various flower gardens. Many were of buildings in Florida.

Mr. Smalley, introduced by Allan F. McAlary, program chairman for April, was substituting for J. Elliott Hale of Augusta sanitary engineer for the Department of Health and Welfare, who was prevented from appearing because of the illness of Mrs. Hale.

President Joseph W. Robinson warmly welcomed back from the South, George B. Wood, Dr. Alvin W. Foss, and Stafford M. Congdon. They reported having attended some excellent club meetings while in Florida. Alexander U. Dougherty and Allen F. Payson of the Camden Club were visitors, and the guests were Sgt. S. Black and Major John Gale, V. C., both from Fort Preble, Portland, and Benjamin B. Anthony of Bear Hill, Rockport, formerly president of the Canton, China, Rotary Club.

Kelley B. Crie led the group singing with Stafford M. Congdon, pianist. Fifty-two were present.

Mrs. Charles H. Whitmore, at her home on Broadway, entertained at supper Saturday night honoring Mrs. Leslie A. Wilson, all present being old time friends of Mrs. Wilson. Mr. and Mrs. Wilson will spend the summer at Criehaven and in the fall will occupy the home on Granite street recently bought of the Whitmores.

A Fatal Accident

Floyd Sanborn of Thomaston Killed When His Car Side-swiped Another

Floyd F. Sanborn, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Sanborn of 28 Green street, Thomaston, was killed about 9:30 Friday night, when automobile he was driving side-swiped a car driven by Aurel R. Chicoine, 39, of Warren, and went off route 17 in Union, near the Union-Washington line.

Sanborn's car, which was being driven east, was upright in the woods with the young man crushed beneath the crankcase. State Policeman Stanley Poland, who with Officers Ray A. Foley and Harold L. Mitchell, investigated the accident, said it was necessary to roll the car over to extricate Sanborn's body.

Dr. Charles D. North, medical examiner, said death was caused by a broken neck.

Sanborn's companion, George Pease, 18, son of Mrs. Vera Pease of Rockland, suffered injuries to his head and back and possible internal injuries. He is at Knox Hospital attended by Dr. Walter D. Hall. Chicoine was uninjured excepting a general shaking up. Pease was taken by Herschel Rockwell of Rockland to the home of Dr. Irving P. Tuttle in Union, who ordered him taken to Knox Hospital. Rockwell, traveling east on route 17, came upon the accident a short time after it happened.

Mr. Sanborn is survived by his parents; three sisters, Miss Doris Sanborn of Lincolnville, Mrs. Margaret McIntyre and Miss Carrie Sanborn of Thomaston and four brothers: Sgt. Donald Sanborn, with the army air forces in the South Pacific, and Herbert, Maynard and William Sanborn of Thomaston.

Services will be at Russell funeral home, Rockland, Tuesday at 2:30, Rev. J. Charles MacDonald officiating. Interment in Sea View cemetery.

To Launch Monday

The Camden Shipbuilding & Marine Railways Company is scheduled to launch Rescue Tug APR. 75 next Monday, approximately on the noon hour. The craft will be the eighth of this type built at the Camden yard, and will eventually be followed by four others.

Officiating as sponsor on this occasion will be the wife of the company's highly efficient master builder, Mrs. John Gamage of Rockland. Other members of the launching party will be Mr. Gamage, Mrs. Donald Willis, Mr. and Mrs. Eliot Gamage, Mrs. James Roach, Mrs. Harvey Hooper, Miss Mary Roach and representatives from the Supervisor's Office in Bath.

Luncheon will be served at the Shipyards.

Municipal Research

Committee On Education Organized, With H. Laton Jackson As Chairman

The Education Committee of the Rockland Citizens' Municipal Research Bureau held an organization meeting in the tower room at Community Building Monday night. H. Laton Jackson, president and introduced General Chairman Carl Moran, who discussed informally the objects of the committee. He pointed out that "We will know more about our city government than ever before," and that he believed "that proposal for new charter will go to Augusta by January of next year." He suggested that the committee be divided into sub-committees to study schools, library, recreation and a small committee to compile statistics showing the trends over a period of years.

Mrs. J. Donald Coughlin was appointed secretary. The following sub-committees were appointed and these committees given authority to enlarge their membership:

Schools, Frederic H. Bird, chairman; Dana Cummings, Mrs. Eugene Sleeper, Carl Griffith, Thomas C. Stone, John M. Richardson, Mrs. Lawrence Miller and Arthur F. Lamb.

Library, R. S. Sherman, chairman; Lloyd E. Daniels, Mrs. Ida Dondis, Mrs. Oliver Ingraham and Mrs. Christopher S. Roberts.

Sgt. Libby Remembers His Mother With a Box of Interesting Relics

Mrs. Catherine Libby has just received notice that her son, Sergeant Charles C. Libby, has been awarded the Good Conduct Medal—being an enlisted man having completed one year's service subsequent to Dec. 7, 1941. This award is for exemplary behavior, devotion to duty, efficiency and fidelity. Charles is now somewhere in England—and here is an extract from a recent letter:

"I sent a small box of souvenirs today. The little clarinet doesn't work very well, but I want it for a keepsake. I picked it up in Palermo, Sicily. The salt shaker, also a little dish I got at a classy restaurant in Casablanca. The little stone is one I picked up at Kasserine—rather odd as it looks like an ear. The pieces of plastic were taken from a German fighter in Sicily. The plane was one of many destroyed while still loaded on flat cars.

"I thought the two little things with the prongs on them would be of interest. They are detonators from the German 'S' mine type of booby trap. They are screwed into the mine, which is about six inches high and four in diameter. The Edward G. Russell of 123 Thomaston street called at this office yesterday with a reminder that he was also an old-time lime worker. Came to Rockland 60 years ago worked "on the kiln" for the Cobb Lime Company seven years and A. F. Crockett & Co. five years. He can recall but three contemporary workers now living—Eugene Perry Horace Bucklin and Edward G. Russell.

A few Rockland citizens accepted this paper's suggestion that sand be swept from the sidewalk in front of their residences. School street is a fine example of the civic pride thus manifested.

Make sure your radio is in perfect order before the umpires call "play ball!" this afternoon.

"Trade dollars" may have been popular back in the 70's but they are rarely seen nowadays. Dr. Allyn Peabody of Thomaston has one, the face of which opens, revealing a portrait of President Rutherford B. Hayes.

The pond lily season is still quite a way off but it doesn't prevent us from recalling "Gray, the Pond Lily King," who brought the fragrant blossoms into Rockland for nearly half a century.

whole business is buried with the prongs partially protruding. A man stepping on one presses the prongs down and sets off the mine, which pops out of the ground and scatters ball bearings all around.

"The detonators can be fired by pressing on them with your hand, and by themselves are quite harmless. The ones I sent home have been fired, so don't be frightened of them.

"My best regards to all the folks and thanks to The Courier-Gazette, I am pretty well posted on all the home news."

Do pedestrians who insist upon using the left hand side of a sidewalk drive automobiles? And if so, why?

I suppose the radio announcers are correct when they pronounce it Seva-stopol, but in the good old days when I was learning my A-B-C's, I was taught to call it Seva-stopol. After hearing the announcers pronounce the German city Frederick-shaven I feel I have some right to be skeptical.

Dr. John Smith Lowe delivered the commencement address.—The residence of Mrs. Hulda Sulin in Warren was destroyed by fire—Dorothy Carlson was awarded the valedictory in Rockland High School; Robert Coffey won the salutatory—Miss Hilda George of Thomaston resigned as school nurse teacher at Long Beach, N. Y., to become a member of the staff of Keuka College nurses, Keuka Park, N. Y.—Lawrence Pease and Jennie Edgecomb won the honor parts in Appleton High School—George W. SHEEP AND LAMBS

All in the April evening,
April airs were abroad;
The sheep with their little lambs
Passed me by on the road.
The sheep with their little lambs
Passed me by on the road;
All in the April evening,
I thought of the Lamb of God.
The lambs were weary, and crying
With a weak, human cry.
I thought on the Lamb of God
Going meekly to die.
Up in the blue, blue mountains
Dewy pastures are sweet;
Rest for their little bodies,
Rest for their little feet.
But, for the Lamb of God
Up on a hilltop green
Only a cross of shame
Two stark crosses between.
All in the April evening,
April airs were abroad;
I saw the sheep with their lambs,
And thought on the Lamb of God.

Book Review

Crazy Weather. By Charles L. McNichols. Published by Macmillan, New York.

Those familiar with Colorado realize crazy weather only happens in the Valley of the Colorado River. Sometimes in late summer a great mass of steaming jungle air rolls up from Mexico, crowding out the dry heat of the desert until it in turn is dispelled by a lightning-rivered hurricane.

A few hours of this festering heat ripen all the conflicts in a young white boy's mind. His mother desires him to go away to school. His father wants him to shoulder responsibility to run the ranch, he being 14 years old. Crazy weather makes both prospects doubly appalling, so the boy runs away with his Mojave friend to make war on the Pintos and try to win for himself a he-man's name.

He encounters maddening heat and every phase of difficulty in life during years with Indian wars and troubles. He learns much of their life. They sing the story of creation in all phases of the life as these people interpret it. He learns with deep interest of their unique native culture.

Eleven Indian reservations were a part of the early life's travels and homes of this author whose father was a Special Agent for U. S. Department of Interior.

Mr. McNichols was a research writer for Cecil B. DeMille productions, later because of physical breakdown, he has been a magazine writer of real note. Thus comes this excellent novel of "Crazy Weather."

Clarity, depth of poetic beauty and vivid fancy, comes into the verse in this handy little volume. Almost any variety of simple and ingratiating mixture of poetic topics is found here. An example: "Night steals light away."

Then rest—
They run away with us, night gives back the day."

The Low Road, a novel by Edward Havill. Harper & Brothers, New York.

In this holding story of rural New York State, we come upon a fresh and delightful mind, with a pen powerful in clear descriptive ability, with narrative and incidents woven together in artistic ease. Country life appeals to most readers, when located on a wooded farm and on the shore of a lake.

There is drama all along, moving in the different lives and direct affinity with the good brown earth which is part and parcel of their lives. Finding themselves in the real problem in this tale with a fine show of character and spirit.

Edward Havill is sensitively attuned to the realities of life; to problems of behavior and individual adjustments. There is a buoyancy and beauty in his picturing easy to accept as real life and happenings. Ordinary matters of universal background but with a difference which

PUBLIC DEMANDS LOBSTERS

Maine fishermen brought to port during February 200,000 pounds of lobsters—this in striking contrast to the corresponding month a year ago when the catch was only 79,174 pounds. Better fishing conditions than in comparative years, a greater abundance of lobsters on the fishing grounds and increased consumer prices are given as the reasons for the increased production. Commissioner Greenleaf sees in the return's growing popularity which the Maine lobster is enjoying throughout the country. Nearly 12,000,000 pounds were consumed last year.

Important developments in the herring industry are also shown by the February report. During that month 1,134,350 pounds of the fish were caught by offshore seiners. Winter seining is a new departure and is substantiated by the fact that this new fishing method has kept the canneries going full blast during the winter months. Statistician McKown said that there were no herring landed in Maine in February, 1943. In past years the canneries have depended on the inshore weirs for their fish and because of this were forced to cut operations during the winter months. The total fish catch for February is valued at $293,564 for a $30,879 increase over January.

London despatches say that the German minister to Roumania has presented an 8-point peace offer, with the request that it be forwarded to Washington and London. It is quite likely that most of the European nations are thinking in terms of peace these "softening up" days. Continuous raids by 2000 or more planes are prone to offer inducement.

The emergency call or 1800 more nurses tells more eloquently than anything else could the seriousness of the situation in the warring countries. It means casualties beyond expectations and the need for assistance such as only trained nurses can give civilian nurses now classified IA are asked to volunteer immediately.

WANTED: MORE NURSES

It's good news for Stonington that the Crotch Island granite quarry is seeking to double its force of workers. The prospects are said to be good that the men will be kept busy throughout the year.

The approach of the June primaries finds many of the "guessers" at sea concerning the gubernatorial nomination. The following paragraph is from the Bridgton News, which manifests a live interest in the States' political affairs.

The three candidates seeking the Republican nomination are Horace Hildreth of Cumberland, Roy L. Fernald of Winterport, and P. Ardine Richardson of Strong. There seems to be a feeling that the organization is backing Hildreth, although Fernald will have more of a following than his political opponents are willing to admit. He is a veteran campaigner and has been getting round among the "grass roots" mingling with the people in their home towns, talking their language and getting a line on what they are thinking about. Hildreth, of course, has not been idle all this time, in his own behalf, but he is contacting a different class of people. His backers, although not over-confident claim at the present stage of the campaign that he is out in front, although the wish may be father to the thought. Mr. Richardson, who has been Master of the State Grange, and who is now Speaker of the Maine House, has a lot of friends scattered throughout the State, but we aren't hearing much about him up this way. If he is doing any effective campaigning, he isn't talking much about it.

The "sit down strike" of five British newspapermen in the Burma war theater, protesting against over-zealous censorship is a very good thing. First, it may prove even through negative means, the power of a free press. Secondly, it may lift some of the curtain of doubt surrounding military affairs in that quarter and either relieve fears lately mounting over the quality of leadership in India and Burma, or compel the changes that need to be made for satisfactory prosecution of the war.

Censorship in the Far East has been of a peculiar kind. In China, where blockade of supplies has inflicted sharpest difficulties on both internal affairs and the conduct of war against Japan, censorship has tried to lower a smoke screen of rather rosy hue over the picture. It hasn't worked. In Burma and India where we have reason to hope the military situation, at least, is not so difficult as in China, censorship has only succeeded in disturbing the British and American homefronts. It is, we feel, time for some truth-telling, and the correspondents in the field may have chosen the most effective way of compelling the telling. We hope so.

ences successful avoidance of mistakes made by the French. This really is a study of magnitude. He takes issue with Wendell Willkie in his book, "One World," also with President Roosevelt and his promises. In fact, the introduction carries one into a revolution of thought.

The book is comprehensive in its scope, going back in history to the early period of 1000 A. D. Ending, he declares, "The goal of the world is to multiply such organisms as the British and French Empires, which are real Leagues of Nations in embryo, because they alone are capable of surviving, as has been demonstrated by two wars, and because without them there is no effective guarantee of peace."

NEW ROCKET TARGET IMPROVES U. S. GUNNERY

U. S. Signal Corps Photo

Dramatic photograph of rocket target as it is launched from the unique wheeled projector. (Insert) Close-up of the rocket.

A ROCKET target which is greatly improving the accuracy of our American anti-aircraft gunners is being used by our army.

C. Donald Dallas, President of Revere Copper and Brass, confirmed the fact that experimental work on the rocket target was begun months before Pearl Harbor and that rocket targets have been in quantity production at Rome, N. Y. since December, 1941.

The unique rocket target replaces, to a large extent, the familiar sleeve target towed by an airplane at a relatively slow speed. The rocket's speed more nearly duplicates the speed of enemy aircraft. The use of the rocket not only saves gasoline but releases planes and pilots for other duties.

The rockets are launched from a wheeled projector by means of an electrical connection leading from the center of the firing trough. As they can be fired from unknown and varied angles, the speeding rockets give anti-aircraft gunners a realistic opportunity to develop alertness and accuracy in firing.

IN MEMORIAM
 In loving memory of our dear mother, Margaret Oxtun, who passed away April 19, 1943.

We loved her, yes, we loved her
 But angels loved her more
 And they have sweetly called her
 To yonder shining shore.
 The golden gates were opened,
 A gentle voice said "Come";
 And with farewells unspoken
 She calmly left her home.

Sadly missed by her sons Elbert and Ellen Oxtun and daughter, Mrs. Annie Rokes.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of George A. Aehorn who passed away April 16, 1939. Our hearts still ache with sadness
 Our eyes shed silent tears,
 God alone knows how we miss you
 As it ends the past five years.

Your dear face is haunting us ever,
 Your sweet voice we're longing to hear.
 Your smile we'll remember forever,
 Though we try to forget each year.
 The happy hours we once enjoyed
 How sweet their memory still.

But death has left loneliness
 The world can never fill.
 Sadly missed by his Wife and Children.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our darling baby, Shirley B. Linscott, who passed away April 26, 1943.

No stain was on her little heart,
 Sin had not entered there;
 And innocence slept sweetly on
 That pale white brow so fair.
 She was too pure for this cold earth,
 Too beautiful to stay;
 And so God's holy angels bore
 Our darling baby away.

Loses Gasoline

An Augusta despatch in a Portland newspaper this morning says: "Charged with using gasoline for a purpose other than that for which his ration was issued, Ralph A. Glendenning, 15 Birch street, Rockland, has had all of his gasoline rations revoked for a period of 120 days, following a hearing before A. E. Smith, Special OPA hearing officer, Richard H. Armstrong, Maine enforcement attorney, announced today.

"It was alleged at the hearing that Glendenning used a three-months' ration of 85 gallons in 40 days. The OPA also alleged that between Feb. 21 and April 11 Glendenning operated a passenger automobile in excess of the mileage which can be obtained on the basis of the ration issued for use with the vehicle.

Glendenning was ordered to surrender all gasoline ration coupons to his board by April 17, he was denied the right to use gasoline already in the tank of his motor vehicle and he was denied the right to receive any further gasoline until Aug. 14."

MORALE

By Rufus T. Strohm
Dean, International
Correspondence Schools

Rufus T. Strohm

THE Armed Forces Institute is an organization created by the army and the navy to give correspondence courses to their men. The Air Corps, the Coast Guard and the Marine Corps have similar "institutes." Most of the students are fitting themselves for post-war jobs, and the officers in charge will tell the chief reason for the institutes is morale.

It is a startling idea to many old-timers that a chance to study accounting or tool making would make a man a better fighter. Yet professional soldiers, who have commanded troops both in the last war and in this one, call the American youngster of today the greatest fighting man the world has ever seen. And that youngster's officers believe that study builds his morale.

The Merriam Webster says morale means "condition as affected by or dependent on, such moral or mental factors as zeal, spirit, hope, confidence, etc." If a man develops an interest, he has zeal. If he feels he's getting somewhere, he has spirit. If he has the means of progress in his hands, he has hope. If he has "know-how," he has confidence. All those things he gains from study.

A New York Herald Tribune dispatch from London reports that an officer who was in the African and Sicilian campaigns said, "We found down there that what we call bivouac morale had direct bearing on combat morale, and you would be surprised to know how eagerly a considerable proportion of the men wanted to go to school."

On the home front as well as on the battle front, there are many who worry about a postwar job. There are others who do something about it, and they are the ones who build morale. Those who use a part of their spare time for study not only assure their own future but also develop a spirit that is as contagious as measles or a song hit.

1947, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Butler received second prize in the contest; third was a tie between two members of the sophomore class, Frances Wren, and Robert Wyllie. Miss Wren is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Wren, and participated in the contest last year. Robert Wyllie is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Wyllie.

Prizes were given by Miss Carolyn Hayden, of West Newton, Mass., teacher at Stuart Hall for Girls at Staunton, Va., a former teacher in the local High School, and consisted of the books, "This is My Best," by Whit Burnett; "Bedford Village" by Hervey Allen; and "The Battle is the Payoff," by Ralph Ingersoll. In the tie for third place, Miss Wren chose the book, and a cash award was made Robert Wyllie, by Principal Fred Perkins, who had charge of the contest.

Judges were Mrs. Jefferson B. Kimball, Mrs. Edwin Boggs, and Mrs. Earle Moore.

Music was furnished by Miss Verna Robinson. Ten speakers took part in the contest, and the decisions were very close.

Miss May Fogler is getting the family homestead in readiness for the Summer. She expects to bring her mother here from the home of Mrs. Martha Clark in Camden where she has spent the Winter.

Mr. Winkle Goes to War

BY THEODORE PRATT

EDWARD STREETER, AUTHOR OF 1917 RECORD-BREAKING WAR BOOK, "DERE MABEL," SAYS:

"Mr. Winkle Goes to War" is swell. Having read the first page I could not put it down until I had read the last.

It is a charming, restrained bit of satire which is going to appeal to the hearts of thousands of people who are groping for something which ties this fantastic war into human realities. Here's hoping that Chipman Mr. Winkle becomes as well known and well beloved as he deserves to be.

THE SEA KING

[For The Courier-Gazette]
Rare treasures of antiquity,
When shadows softly fold,
There is but one straight way for me,
The voyage that the Viking told.
The turquoise tunic of old,
And silver of the shining sea
I turned to burnished gold.
Waltham, Mass. — Archie Tech

A PRAYER

[For The Courier-Gazette]
The pathos and the loneliness
Of mother hearts that wait
To hear the old familiar tread,
The opening of the sunny smile,
To feel the arms that cling,
Dear God, oh, bring them safely back;
So that these hearts may sing.
Mary E. L. Taylor
Rockland.

MAN'S WONDERMENT

Do women in this world of splutter
With war, and strife, and brood,
Deliberately choose to cause a flutter
For such a witch, so heartless free
Pretending most outrageous surprise
When you respond—eyes burning too,
No want less ardently a brew
Than she potend's! Zounds, on my oath,
I really do not choose to hate
So much of beauty, so beguiling
As this wee witch who keeps smiling
Extending she sees not my love
Outspoken, through eyes like to a dove,
Wee to this world and wee is me
That I should fall unwittingly
For such a witch, so heartless free
With not a penny's worth of sorrows
That she played havoc with my merrows.
I'll go again back to the wars
And win for me some honored scars
To life my pride from my downfall,
Because a cult of a girl smiled free
And broke my heart deliberately.

Women's Study Group

Interesting Papers Given At Last Week's Meeting Of This Organization

Mrs. Ralph Norton presided at meeting of the Rockland Church Women's Study Group held this week in the vestry of the Littlefield Memorial Church.

Following a period of silent prayer, Mrs. Kathleen S. Fuller read a paper on, "Promises Will Not Produce an Enduring Peace." Mrs. Fuller, in a thoughtful address said that "The task of making peace will require great physical strength and the time has arrived for the best of cooperation amongst churches." "Germany should be made to realize that we are strong for a just peace for all peoples," the speaker asserted. Mrs. Fuller said that "leadership is the great task in Washington today."

Mrs. Roger F. Conant read a stirring article written by Veima Hissong, entitled, "A Woman Thinks Out Loud on World Peace."

Because of the illness of Mrs. Charles A. Marsteller, her husband read a paper on "The Price of War and Peace," making reference to the various costs, not only monetary, but in the sorrow and suffering of war. The price of peace demands an exercise of love, sympathy, humility recognition of God and cooperation and team-work.

Two films were shown, Franklin Blaisdell operating the projection machine; "The World We Want to Live In," and "What Price Victory?" Mrs. Keryn ap Rice, president of the group, read a letter asking that the group present names of persons the group would like to have set in on peace discussions. The group voted to recommend the Wendell Wilkie, Rabbi Stephen Wise and John R. Mott.

Refreshments of tea and cakes were served by the women of the church.

Camden Girl Named

Helen M. Hughes Will Serve In Highly Specialized Field

A direct and personal work for Servicemen and their families is the highly specialized field chosen as the war effort of Miss Helen M. Hughes of Camden. Miss Hughes has been appointed to the Home Service Department of the Red Cross, with her headquarters in New Britain, Conn.

While her labors are for the most part confidential, dealing with individual problems, they do touch upon the social service branch of welfare for which Miss Hughes has had intensive study and training.

After attending the grade schools in Camden, her courses were continued at the Academy of the Assumption in Wellesley Hills, Mass. She obtained her Bachelor of Arts degree at Marymont College in Tarrytown, N. Y., following this with a year's work at the National Catholic School of Social Service which is affiliated with the Catholic University in Washington, D. C. In connection with the latter endeavor, she was associated with the Department of Public Welfare in Baltimore.

Handling of messages to and from prisoners of war is among the varied and fascinating duties in Miss Hughes' department. Any soldier in any part of the world who may have contacts in New Britain, Conn. may lay his personal problem of any kind on the doorstep of the Red Cross bureau there, and be assured of a kindly, conscientious and correct solution.

An amusing example of the type of question which confronts these workers daily is the case of the Private home on furlough. Welcomed joyously by his family, the "kid sister" yearned to do something special for him so quietly sent to the cleaner his spare G. I. duds begrimed with jungle mud. So far, so good, and highly commendable—but presently back comes the outfit spic and span to its delighted owner, who forthwith mechanically reaches for his furlough and train tickets in the inside pocket. A mass of illegible pulp meets his startled stare! Pronto dashes the lad to the only source which he knows, from past experi-

Engagement of Mary Janet Cowan of Edgewater, N. J., and Glenmere

Mr. and Mrs. George Lloyd Cowan, Jr., of Edgewater Park, N. J. and Glenmere, Me., have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Mary Janet Cowan, to Corporal Donald Vernon Foster, US-AAP, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Henry Foster, of Gardner, Mass.

Miss Cowan attended Walnut Hill School, Natick, Mass., and was graduated from Mount Holyoke College. Corporal Foster attended Cushing Academy, Ashburnham, Mass., and Wentworth Institute, Boston, and is now stationed at Tonopah, Nevada.

Miss Cowan is the grand-daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Sinex, who for many years were Summer residents of Thomaston.

ence, is capable of lending an official helping hand—the Red Cross. How his difficulty was straightened out may be a military secret but there is nothing secretive about the pleasure and gratification which a service of this type represents. To help the boys in khaki and to do it in the right way is a war-time vocation for which Miss Hughes is ideally adapted and which she finds increasingly worthy.

As she is within a year of the specified age limit for overseas duty, 25, it is unlikely that Miss Hughes will journey to foreign soil, and this, too, is all right with her, for under normal conditions she has a strong attachment with home and family. Mr. and Mrs. John T. Hughes of Chestnut Hill, Camden, whence she will speedily return on every scrap of leave. That she may also direct others toward pathways of domestic peace and happiness, come Victory, is the constant object of her Red Cross Services.

Mrs. Richard P. Bird was admitted to Knox Hospital yesterday for further treatment.

A Silver Wedding

Cablegram From Son In England Received By Knights On That Occasion

Wednesday night, April 12, Tranquility Grange hall was the scene of an interesting social event, when Mr. and Mrs. R. Scott Knight, of Lincolnville, were greeted by a group of friends and relatives, on the occasion of their silver wedding anniversary.

Not knowing where they were going when they left home, they were taken to the Grange hall and escorted to their seats of honor by their two grandchildren Janice and Beverly Knight of Bath, while the orchestra played the wedding march.

An address of welcome was given by Joseph Mullen, the genial toastmaster, and the happy though slightly bewildered couple were congratulated by their friends. They were assisted in the receiving line by their former matron of honor and best man, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Frohock of Lincolnville Beach.

The hall was decorated with white, rose and silver crepe, making a pleasing background for the ladies' attractive evening dresses.

On behalf of the assembled guests, Mrs. Charles Faulkingham presented the couple with a lovely silver tea set and tray. The bouquets of carnations decorating the stage were the gift of their sister, Miss Ethel Knight of Waterville. A basket of 25 roses was presented from their son-in-law, Pvt. Robert Harvey. A decorated wedding cake on a silver and crystal plate was the gift of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Demmons of Thomaston. They received their gifts of silver, including a lovely bonbon dish from their son and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Knight of Bath, and a silver and crystal vase from their grandchildren.

The duties of master of ceremonies were ably performed by Bernard Knight. A novelty dance was presented by Janice Knight, Adin Hopkins of Camden delighted his friends with several vocal selections. A duet sung by Janice Knight and Marceline Willette, was well received, their voices blending nicely together.

Ice cream, party cakes and punch were served from a table decorated with sweet peas.

Billy Deans' trio furnished music for dancing. Mrs. Cranston Dean had charge of the guest book. The party broke up at a late hour after best wishes were extended to Mr. and Mrs. Knight for many more happy years. A cablegram of congratulation was received from Pvt. Robert Harvey, stationed in England.

Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wheeler of Rockland, Mr. and Mrs. Percy Demmons and daughter Mildred of Thomaston, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Knight and daughters Janice and Beverly of Bath, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Ludwig of Hope, Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Fuller of Union, Miss Marceline Willette of Bath, Mrs. Florence Allen of Hope, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Cookson, Mrs. Emily Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. T. R. French, Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Prince, Mr. and Mrs. William Kelley, Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Gilmer, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Heald, all of Camden.

Mrs. Elmer S. Bird was hostess to the Dorcas Club yesterday afternoon.

Miss Ruth Rogers To Head Methebesec Club the Coming Year

The annual meeting of Methebesec Club was held at Hotel Rockland Friday night, with 32 members answering roll-call. This club was organized in 1898 as a Current Events club, whose motto is: "To Learn and To Help."

It was voted to give $10. to the American Red Cross. Last Fall $10. was given to the County War Chest, and $10. to Opportunity Farm for Boys, at New Gloucester, Maine. Due to the generosity of a member 16 books have been presented to the Public Library, non-fiction, and several needed to complete the collection of Maxwell Anderson's Plays.

The new officers are: Miss Ruth Rogers, president; Mrs. Gladys Burns, vice president; Mrs. Winnifred Proctor, secretary; Mrs. Ida Huntley, treasurer; Miss Mabel Holbrook and Mrs. Dora Bird, directors, and Miss Ellen Cochran, auditor.

Entertainment of a high order was presented by readings from members of the local Scribblers' Club. A prose selection entitled: "The Bob Cat," by Ruth Whitmore, was read by Miss Relief Nichols; And selected poems read by Mrs. Irene Moran, as follows:—

"Presentment" and "Talisman" both by Miss Relief Nichols; "Faria Sequence" by Mrs. Edna Dvinal of Rockport; "Vinalhaven by Evening," Mrs. Irene Moran; "Things Unseen" by Mrs. Ethel Lovejoy, Rockland; "Obsession" by Mrs. Betty Foxwell of Camden; "Hempden Song" by Mrs. Blanche Ellis-worth of Rockport; "Inspiring" by Mrs. Orissa Merrill, Rockland; "A Story to Neptune" by Mrs. Carswell, formerly of Camden; "Confession" by Mrs. Edna McKinley, of Union; "The Cloud" by Mrs. Leah Fuller, Rockland; "Echo" by Mrs. Sarah McCullough, formerly of Rockport; "Slump Down and Rest," by Mrs. Euphemia Lawrence of Rockport; "Flower Shade" by Mrs. Marguerite MacAlman, formerly of Rockland; "Great Divide" by Mrs. Alice Karl, Rockland.

The subject for the coming year is to be: "Ideals or Life's Ideals."

Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Berry and daughter, Marie, have returned from Florida, where they spent the Winter at their Coral Gables home.

Hears About Young People,
Income Taxes and Thrills
—Picture Reels

The Woman's Educational Club enjoyed an excellent program Friday. Mrs. Diana Pitts was the speaker at the afternoon session. Her subject was "Young People."

Young people are tremendously important she said for they are the citizens of tomorrow, besides there is nothing more important than our sons and daughters and grandchildren.

"In these wartime days of tensely, separation and anxiety one can come to appreciate the rather humdrum, drab things of life. The garden, we found it such a boring task to weed has become an exciting one instead. Nothing is as exciting as American youth—and with our sons and daughters far away facing grave danger, we have come to realize how vastly precious they are."

She told of American Youth Commission of National Education and their survey, very intensive, covering a period of six years and some very interesting things they had discovered.

Hence by a careful survey of the past we shall be able to provide for a safe, sane future.

But it is essential that slum children and all underprivileged young people will have a part in this program.

Young people, ordinary young people, clerks in our shops, fill our gas tanks and do all sorts of things which may not be their real ambition. Caution must be taken that these positions are no dead-end pursuits, that is no future.

Youth found it very difficult to find his place in the scheme of things. It was not his choice but was thrust upon him by circumstance. "In Germany and Italy they donned black and brown shirts and went 'goose stepping' to war, but economic dependence that corrupts is not the villain in this play raled them."

There are three escapes from this situation.

First was war—and situations and events combined to produce this climax.

Second, odd jobs often lead to blind alleys.

Third, is the only enduring situation, that is special training and work experience.

The High Schools are meeting this need by revising curricula often to set the door ajar to American youth. A storming crowd of youth are increasing our high school pupil rate 400% in the past few years.

Box lunch at six.

Dr. Clinton Clauson of Augusta spoke on "Income Tax."

"Income tax concerns every person who earns an income," he said.

Taxes are the only way to raise a revenue.

In early English history many forms of taxation were used, and had it not been for the avareness of the King of England in 1773 we might still be subjects of that country.

Personal income tax began in 1913 but has been revised from time to time. As the National debt was paid up this tapered off. At first $3,500 was the exemption for married people. Now internal revenue is based on $1,200 for married. Pay as you go plan is new but a safeguard to the tax payers.

For by this method if he earns a large salary and spends freely he may find himself indebted to the government for a large sum. Now his employer deducts from his salary each week and if for any reason he doesn't earn the amount for which revenue is collected there is a

Arthur Paquetid, North Edgcomb has now all barred rocks. He is supplying one of the largest hatcheries in New England with hatching eggs throughout the year. He expects 4000 day-old chicks, Christmas strain, the first of May. Next fall he plans to remodel his barn so as to carry about 1500 layers.

Paul Hilton, of Alna, feels there is a possibility of more sheep being raised throughout the Sheepscot Valley. There are many abandoned farms where the fields are rapidly growing up to bushes. Plans are being made for a meeting later in the year to discuss sheep raising in this area.

Ralph Keen's herd, in Damariscotta, led the Dairy Herd Improvement Association for the month of March with 31.4 pounds of butter fat. Second honors went to the herd of Sherman English, Monroe, with 31.1 pounds and third honors to Vaughn Hurd, Knox, with 29.4

withholding tax that will be refunded to him. On the estimate salary plan his tax is payable in four installments and in March, 1945, what proportion that he has not earned but has been deducted from his weekly pay check, will be refunded at that time.

Round table and questions were answered by Mr. Sayre.

Frank A. Winslow spoke on "My Greatest Thrill." He told of his first great thrill when he four years of age in seeing the burning of a big house on the George Brown estate in the early dawn.

On a trip to New York he was enthralled by its vastness and a World Series ball game. Visits were also made to Quebec and Springfield, Mass., where he witnessed a Harvard-Yale football game.

In 1932 he visited Saint John, N. B. In June, 1933, came the visit to Barnum & Bailey circus where he saw the "Sky Man," 8 feet, 6 1/2 inches tall; the fat lady, weighing 662 pounds and he was impressed with a man who could turn his head entirely around, "no fake" as I stood within two feet of him.

"Perhaps rubber necks came from that quarter, I don't know." In July, 1933, again visited Quebec and Ottawa and on the return trip visited Plymouth, the birthplace of Calvin Coolidge and set in the flag draped pew of the church where he worshipped. At Lakewood met and interviewed Amelia Earheart and Mary Rogers, Will Rogers' daughter.

He visited Salem and saw "The House of Seven Gables" made famous by Nathaniel Hawthorne.

"I've always yearned to own a penguin but don't know what I'd do with it," said the speaker telling of a roadside advertisement "Penguins for sale."

Another important experience was in visiting Brunswick and Topsham when the flood was at its peak. By special favor he was permitted to walk half way across the vibrating and tottering structure.

A high light was the trip to Callander, Ontario to see the quintuplets and interview Dr. Datoe. But his greatest thrill was upon his return to the native haunts in dear old Rockland and be again greeted by "my tried and trusty friends."

Franklin Blaisdell showed two reels of pictures—"Air Flow" and "Vitamin Discoveries." For his kindness and courtesy the Club is deeply grateful.

E. B. G.

pounds. Other herds making over 25 pounds butter fat were: Hezzie Ward, Thorndike; Ben Nichols, Hope; Roland Gushee, Appleton; and Clifton Walker, Alna. Many of these herds are carrying a number of dry cows which cuts down on the herd production. Soon the herd will be out to pasture which will mean an increase in production.

Ladino clover pastures are looking especially good this Spring. Joe Chapman & Son, of Damariscotta, and Clarence Walker, of Alna, have called the County Agent's attention to their plots which are showing very green and should means lots of feed for the Summer.

Ray Thurston, of Union, and Norris Waltz, of Damariscotta, are considering buck rakes for this Summer. Both feel that they will help solve the man power shortage which is sure to develop.

With The Homes

The 2-day course on "Caring for the Sick at Home" was held in Tenants Harbor, March 22 and April 6. The following women completed the course: Mrs. Margaret Cant, Mrs. Ethel Coffin, Mrs. Josie Conary, Mrs. Edith Harris, Mrs. Gertrude Hupper, Mrs. Edith Murray, Mrs. Virginia Fay, Mrs. Jessie Harris, Mrs. Mary Marriott, and Mrs. Flora Miller each attended one meeting of the class taught by the home demonstration agent. How to read temperatures, change a bed with a patient in it, give a bed bath, and other sick room practices were demonstrated.

The first of the series of sewing machine clinics was held in North Edgcomb, April 7. The home demonstration agent explained how to clean and oil sewing machines, after which Mrs. Nellie Clifford and Mrs. Sarah Chase cleaned, oiled and adjusted the tension on their machines. Any one who wishes to have her machine cleaned and oiled should bring it to one of these meetings. If it is a treadle type machine, only the head need be brought to the clinic.

Similar sewing machine clinics were held in Rockland; Orr's Corner; Damariscotta; and Friendship.

The schedule for the next two weeks is as follows: Simonton, April 18; Nobleboro, April 19; Rockport, April 20; Whitefield, April 21; Hope, April 26; and Boothbay, April 28.

In the Service

The W.C.T.U. met Friday in the First Baptist Church. Members of the local mission circles, mothers and wives of servicemen were special guests. A program on "Mission Fields and Our Boys in Service" was presented by Mrs. Kate Brawn.

The program was presented in the manner of a radio talk with Mrs. Brawn as announcer, told of the work of the World's W.C.T.U., how it is carried on largely by contributions from the Light Line Unions. The W.C.T.U., before World War 2, was organized and doing active work in 53 countries. Many have had to discontinue because of enemy invasions, but a majority of them are still carrying on. Miss Mabel Spring as "broadcaster" gave a radio message from Unions around the world, telling of social, educational and Legislative work for temperance being done. Also a message from Youth around the world. Mrs. Lorna Pendleton sang, "We've a Story to Tell to the Nations."

Mothers and wives of boys in the service present, told where their servicemen were stationed and a brief word concerning them. Letters from local boys in Persia and in India were read; also a letter from Helen Benjamin, a nurse in the Baptist Mission Hospital in Nellore, S. India.

Miss Spring told an interesting story of a correspondence with a former pupil, an art student, doing camouflage work with the U. S. Army in North Africa and Italy, showing original cards and pictures of drawings he had made.

Mrs. Elizabeth Passon showed an interesting array of souvenirs her husband brought from the Mediterranean including a native musical instrument, leather art goods, money from various countries, and articles of lady's attire.

Alan L. Bird New State Committeeman — Rockland
Delegate's New Hat

Knox County delegates to the Republican State Convention returned home brimming with enthusiasm, and very, very proud of Representative Margaret Chase Smith, who presided so brilliantly.

There were no contests at the Knox County caucus. Senator Albert B. Elliot of Thomaston was chairman. Alan L. Bird of Rockland was chosen State committeeman and Mrs. Hattie Lawry of Friendship State committeewoman. Vice presidents chosen were Zelma M. Dwinall of Camden, and Mrs. Louise Orbeton of West Rockport. Members of the resolutions committee chosen were Stuart C. Burgess of Rockland, and Mrs. Ellen Thomas of Vinalhaven.

Second District delegates to the National Convention are G. Cooy Weston of Augusta, and John R. Bass of Wilton. State Chairman Lloyd B. Morton, formerly of Washington, was named as one of the delegates at large.

While Knox County failed to bring home any political prize, a Knox County office profited through an exchange of headgear, and is wearing a brand new one, bought from a Portland establishment.
